Clinics

All Clinics are designed to teach participants different aspects of the game of tennis. We use a combination of drills and games to draw interest from the participants. Clinics are a great way to socialize with other kids and learn about the game of tennis. With this being stated, if you are looking for more one on one instruction or even want to get a smaller group of people together for more instruction, so your son or daughter can have more repetition hitting, I recommend private lessons or a combination of private lessons and clinics (depending on the age of the student).
